

11 Oct 2013 HT City

Mallika gets mobbed in her village in Haryana

Actor Mallika Sherawat was mobbed by a crowd as she reached her native village, Moth, in Haryana's Hisar district to shoot for her TV show, The Bachelorette India - Mere Khayalon ki Mallika. Sherawat, whose real name is Reema Lamba, visited her village after a long time and was surrounded by a crowd of 3,000 to 4,000 people.

The 36-year-old went there to shoot some scenes of her ancestral house for her show. However, seeing the huge crowd, she did not step out of her car and soon left.

Hisar's Superintendent of Police, Satish Balan, said that the police had not been informed about the TV shoot in advance. "The crowd in the village was beyond anybody's expectations. They were going crazy and wanted to catch a glimpse of the actor. Soon, we dispatched police personnel to control the situation," he said.

Sherawat was also supposed to go to a gurdwara with her family members but could not do so. The Murder star is the daughter of Mukesh Lamba, a retired engineer from Haryana, and great granddaughter of renowned philanthropist Seth Chhaju Ram from Hisar.